

CHILD LABOUR CONFERENCE INVITATION!!!

Dear Sir/Madam,

We extend to you a cordial invitation to attend the 2012 international summit on child labour. The Conference will meet June 26-29 in the United States and July 02-05 in Senegal 2012.

An estimated 158 million children aged 5-14 are engaged in child labour - one in six children in the world. Millions of children are engaged in hazardous situations or conditions, such as working in mines, working with chemicals and pesticides in agriculture or working with dangerous machinery. They are everywhere but invisible, toiling as domestic servants in homes, labouring behind the walls of workshops, hidden from view in plantations.

In Sub-Saharan Africa around one in three children are engaged in child labour, representing 69 million children.

In South Asia, another 44 million are engaged in child labour.

The latest national estimates for this indicator are reported in Table 9 (Child Protection) of UNICEF's annual publication The State of the World's Children.

Children living in the poorest households and in rural areas are most likely to be engaged in child labour. Those burdened with household chores are overwhelmingly girls. Millions of girls who work as domestic servants are especially vulnerable to exploitation and abuse.

Labour often interferes with children's education. Ensuring that all children go to school and that their education is of good quality are keys to preventing child labour.
